FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

MBL Advisors Continues to Support Local Charity

(November 22, 2013 - Charlotte, NC) With the holiday season fast approaching it reminds us all how thankful we are for what we have and how we are able to help those less fortunate. MBL Advisors will provide and serve a hot breakfast Friday, September 12th to up to 200 individuals waiting to be seen at Crisis Assistance Ministry. MBL Advisors strives to be an active member of the Charlotte community helping local charities whether through volunteer time or a financial contribution. "Giving back to the community is very important to all of us at MBL Advisors. This is a great opportunity to continue to support an organization that is truly committed to helping local families get back on their feet. This ministry provides a positive impact within our community," Luther Lockwood, Managing Principal.

Crisis Assistance Ministry provides assistance to and advocacy for families in crisis while helping lead them to self-sufficiency. Specifically, Crisis Assistance Ministry provides basic needs, from emergency financial assistance for the prevention of eviction or utility disconnection to clothing and furniture assistance to ensure dignity. Counselors provide support services and referrals to give families the tools they need to move toward financial stability. Educating the larger community about the realities of poverty in Mecklenburg County is also an important role the agency undertakes. Visit them online at www.crisisassistance.org to learn more about preventing homelessness and preserving dignity.
